Zachaaous was a tax collector who worked for the Romans. He was considered a traitor and a despicable thief, listed as a "chief" tax collector. If he should be recognized by anyone in the crowd his life would be in danger. So, to avoid being seen, he gets out of the way of the crowd. But he wants to see Jesus! He climbs a tree. Why did he want to see Jesus? Was he looking for something? A change of heart? A conversion? Not to live in fear any longer? To go straight? To use the proverbial phrase, "to go out on a limb?" We know the story. Is it also ours?

John Greenleaf Whittier wrote one of the most quoted poems in the English language, "Maud Miller." It's about a young maiden who sees a handsome young judge riding on a horse. She offers him a cool drink of water and their encounter lasts only a few moments, but it made a deep impression on both of them. Maud is greatly attracted to the judge and dreams of marrying him,

At the same time the judge is attracted to Maud. He is tired of his career and dreams of marrying a compassionate woman like Maud and living in the country. But neither Maud nor the judge acknowledge their attraction to each other. They are from different social classes. They cannot risk breaking the bonds of social conformity.

In the end, Maud marries a man who brings her much pain and hardship. The judge also enters into a loveless marriage. In the final stanza of the poem Whittier offers this famous warning: "For of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these: 'It might have been!'" Zachaaeus decided to take the risk, go out on a limb. Not knowing what he might encounter; he dared to go public to see, embrace, follow Jesus and discover a new way of life. So the Zachaaeus story challenges us to go "out on a limb". Beware of the "might have been," and embrace St. Paul's words, "Now is the acceptable time."

Hacedores de la Palabra Domingo, 30 de octubre de 2022 "al límite"

Zachaaous era un recaudador de impuestos que trabajaba para los romanos. Fue considerado un traidor y un ladrón despreciable, catalogado como un "jefe" de recaudadores de impuestos. Si alguien de la multitud lo reconociera, su vida correría peligro. Entonces, para evitar ser visto, se aparta del camino de la multitud. ¡Pero él quiere ver a Jesús! Se sube a un árbol. ¿Por qué quería ver a Jesús? ¿Estaba buscando algo? ¿Un cambio de corazón? ¿Una conversión? ¿No vivir más con miedo? ¿Ir directamente? Para usar la frase proverbial, "¿para arriesgarse?" Conocemos la historia. ¿También es nuestro?

John Greenleaf Whittier escribió uno de los poemas más citados en inglés, "Maud Miller". Se trata de una joven doncella que ve a un apuesto joven juez montado en un caballo. Ella le ofrece un trago de agua fresca y su encuentro dura solo unos instantes, pero dejó una profunda impresión en ambos. Maud se siente muy atraída por el juez y sueña con casarse con él.

Al mismo tiempo, el juez se siente atraído por Maud. Está cansado de su carrera y sueña con casarse con una mujer compasiva como Maud y vivir en el campo. Pero ni Maud ni el juez reconocen su atracción mutua. Son de diferentes clases sociales. No pueden correr el riesgo de romper los lazos de la conformidad social.

Al final, Maud se casa con un hombre que le trae mucho dolor y dificultades. El juez también entra en un matrimonio sin amor. En la estrofa final del poema, Whittier ofrece esta famosa advertencia: "Porque de todas las palabras tristes de la lengua o la pluma, las más tristes son estas: '¡Podría haber sido!'". Zachaaeus decidió correr el riesgo, arriesgarse. Sin saber lo que podría encontrar; se atrevió a hacerse público para ver, abrazar, seguir a Jesús y descubrir una nueva forma de vida

Así que la historia de Zaqueo nos desafía a "dar un paso al frente". Tenga cuidado con el "podría haber sido" y acepte las palabras de San Pablo: "Ahora es el momento aceptable".

Christmas Music and Pageant

We are pleased to assist you in the faith formation of your children. This Christmas, we are forming a children's choir, who will sing at the 4:30 pm Mass on Christmas Eve. Interested students should contact Deacon Richard. Practices will begin soon. It is a tradition that prior to the 4:30 Christmas Eve Mass, students reenact the Nativity story. We need several student volunteers to act in this pageant. Help from parents is also appreciated. Students who would like to participate should contact Deacon Richard. Practices will begin in early November.

Coro de Niños y Pastorela

Nos complace ayudarlo en la formación de fe de sus hijos. Esta Navidad, estamos formando un coro de niños, quienes cantarán en la Misa de las 4:30 pm en Nochebuena. Los estudiantes interesados deben comunicarse con el Diácono Richard. Próximamente comenzarán las prácticas. Es una tradición que antes de la Misa de Nochebuena de las 4:30, los estudiantes representen la historia de la Natividad.

Necesitamos varios estudiantes voluntarios para actuar en este concurso. También se agradece la ayuda de los padres. Los estudiantes que deseen participar deben comunicarse con el Diácono Richard. Las prácticas comenzarán a principios de noviembre.

Feast of All Saints

Holy Day of Obligation

Tuesday, November 1st

6:45pm - Veneration of Relics
7:00pm – Mass

Holy Family Catholic Church
78 Friesian Circle, Thayne WY

Please join us in this hopeful celebration!

The veneration of relics in the Catholic Church is an ancient tradition that dates back all the way to the New Testament. We can find its origins in the life of Jesus Christ, such as the woman who touched Jesus' cloak and was healed. The Church has always treated the relics of saints in a special manner, preserving them and often putting them on display for the benefit of the faithful.

If you are the custodian of a relic that you wish to share with the parish on this Feast day, please contact Pauline Zeren at holyfamilythaynemusic@gmail.com
