Today's Psalm 27, "The Lord is my light and my salvation," was inscribed on the baseball bat of Adrian Gonzalez. He was selected multiple times as an MLB All-Star and as winner of the league's Gold Gloves while playing for the San Diego Padres. He was named the team's most valuable player four times. Gonzalez was inspired by today's Psalm, which speaks about overcoming fear. The first baseman even had a best-selling baseball bat for him by the Trinity Bat Company: Pro Select PS 27:1, which takes its name from this verse.

Gonzalez retired from baseball last year. He is 40 years of age and played for the Marlins, Rangers, Padres, Redsox, Dodgers & Metros during his career.

A Not-so-Biblical Bat!

I heard of a woman who was the director of a drug rehabilitation center. One day a tall, strong man with a baseball bat entered the reception area. He was shouting obscenities and began banging the bat on the desks of the secretaries and admitting personnel. They jumped back and tried to get as far away from him as possible. One ran into the back room and called the police.

The woman who directed the center came out and walked right up to the screaming man waving the bat. She ducked under his reach and wrapped her arms around his chest. In a heartfelt voice she repeated over and over again, "Oh, you poor man! OH! You poor man!" They stood together in that strange embrace for a while, and then the man began to sob. The woman led him to a chair. He slumped into it and waited for the police. He never let go of the baseball bat.

What gave that woman the courage to duck and wrap her arms around him? Doesn't it sound like a Christ-like "wrap"? What psalm verse would you put on your bat?

Hacedores de la Palabra Domingo, 22 de enero de 2023 ¡Un Murciélagos Bíblico!

El Salmo 27 de hoy, "El Señor es mi luz y mi salvación", fue inscrito en el bate de béisbol de Adrián González. Fue seleccionado varias veces como MLB All-Star y como ganador de los Guantes de Oro de la liga mientras jugaba para los Padres de San Diego. Fue nombrado el jugador más valioso del equipo cuatro veces. González se inspiró en el Salmo de hoy, que habla de vencer el miedo. La primera base incluso tenía un bate de béisbol más vendido para él por Trinity Bat Company: Pro Select PS 27:1, que toma su nombre de este versículo.

González se retiró del béisbol el año pasado. Tiene 40 años y jugó para los Marlins, Rangers, Padres, Redsox, Dodgers y Metros durante su carrera.

¡Un murciélagos no tan bíblico!

Escuché de una mujer que era directora de un centro de rehabilitación de drogas. Un día, un hombre alto y fuerte con un bate de béisbol entró en el área de recepción. Gritaba obscenidades y comenzó a golpear con el bate los escritorios de las secretarías y del personal de admisión. Saltaron hacia atrás y trataron de alejarse lo más posible de él. Uno corrió a la trastienda y llamó a la policía.

La mujer que dirigía el centro salió y caminó directamente hacia el hombre que gritaba y agitaba el bate. Ella se agachó bajo su alcance y envolvió sus brazos alrededor de su pecho. Con voz sincera repetía una y otra vez: "¡Oh, pobre hombre! ¡OH! ¡Pobre hombre! Permanecieron juntos en ese extraño abrazo por un rato, y luego el hombre comenzó a sollozar. La mujer lo llevó a una silla. Se dejó caer en él y esperó a la policía. Nunca soltó el bate de béisbol.

¿Qué le dio a esa mujer el coraje de agacharse y envolver sus brazos alrededor de él? ¿No suena como una "envoltura" como la de Cristo? ¿Qué verso de salmo pondrías en tu bate?
